Fields and flocks, and fragrant flow'rs,
All that health and joy impart,
Call'd for artleſs Muſic's pow'rs,
Faithful ecchoes to the heart.
Happy hours for ever gay,
Claim'd the merry roundelay.

But the breath of genial Spring,
Wak'd the warblers of the grove,
Who, ſweet Birds, that heard you ſing,
Wou'd not join the ſong of love.
Your ſweet Notes and chauntings gay,
Claim'd the merry roundelay.
